My preferred option to address the under-recovery of costs from resource consent applications is to...

Keep charge-out rates the same and make up shortfall from general rates reserve

Tell us why this is your preferred option

1)As the consent process is an open ended process with no guarantees how much it is going to cost it is not in the best interest of Ecan nor its staff to work towards a quick resolution. 2) Costs due Shortfalls in skill and or knowledge by ecan staff becomes the applicants cost. 3) Consent requests can be beneficial to the environment and the open cost structure might stop someone to do the right thing.

I wish to speak to Council on my submission
